DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's election of Group I, claims 1-27 and 37-44, in the reply filed on October 7, 2008 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

2. Claims 28-36 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected embodiments, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on October 7, 2008.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-19, drawn to a structure for use in an electrochemical cell system.

Group II, claim(s) 20 and 37, drawn to a kit for providing energy.

Group III, claim(s) 21 and 38, drawn to a system for providing energy.

Group IV, claim(s) 22-27 and 39-44, drawn to a portable power supply.

Art Unit: 1795

4. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical features shared by Groups I-IV are the limitations recited in claims 1 and 11. These limitations are taught by Pollack, US 4,605,604 (see the reasons below). Therefore, the shared technical features cannot be special technical features because they are known in the prior art. Unity of invention is lacking and restriction is proper.

Regarding the limitations recited in claims 1 and 11, Pollack teaches a structure for use in an electrochemical cell system [nickel aluminum dry charge reserve battery] (Abstract, Drawing) comprising: a dry component structure including a plurality of dry components, including an anode and a cathode [positive electrode 12, negative electrode 13] (2:43-46, 4:14-16), one end of the dry component structure having a reservoir of electrolyte concentrate [reservoir container 16] (2:48), wherein liquid is added to the reservoir of electrolyte concentrate and electrolyte is introduced into the dry component structure through an electrolyte flow control structure thereby causing electrochemical reaction between the anode and cathode (1:57-62, 4:57-67, 5:30-44).

5. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

If Group I is selected, a further species election is required.

Species A, claim 13, drawn to an anode current collector with an anode card.

Species B, claim 14, drawn to an anode current collector with an anode frame.

Art Unit: 1795

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-12 and 15-19.

6. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The technical features shared by Species A and B are the limitations recited in claim 11. These limitations are taught by Pollack, US 4,605,604, as discussed above.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
